Test Everything

1 Thessalonians 5:21 instructs us to examine everything carefully. That means we are to test something to see if it's genuine. When I was in Jr. high school I remember taking a trip to New York City. There we found many salesmen on the streets selling Rolex watches, or Oakley sunglasses at unbelievably low prices. The low price was easily justified because every single item was fake. One didn't have to examine very hard to see that it wasn't a genuine item. Spiritual discernment is something that's severely lacking in the church. It's what separates divine truth from error in one's mind. Believers are to evaluate everything we come in contact with to distinguish what is true and false, good and bad, or right and wrong. One of the leading causes of the lack of spiritual discernment is weak doctrine. When doctrine is diluted to meet man's satisfaction one of the results is men and women who have no source for discernment. When we start to say things like that doctrine has divided people and therefore we should be silent on it, we may remove the opposition of people but we also remove the truth of God Himself. So let's aim to be a church that uses spiritual discernment in everything we do. Let's long for it, pray for it, and study hard to know what's true and what isn't, letting the Word of God be the foundation for what we believe.
