Today's Message: Authentic Repentance (Text: Psalm 51:1-2)

Jesse McAlexander is filling the pulpit for us today. Jesse is a Lieutenant in the United States Navy. He is currently serving as the chaplain on a Marine base in North Carolina. Jesse is married to Jessy, who is the daughter of John and Donna McIntyre. Jesse has a history of missions work in various places including Thailand, and Nicaragua. While in college, Jesse filled the pulpit at a church in Illinois. After graduating with his master's degree, he went on to be the counseling pastor at a different church in Illinois. Today we welcome him to North Street and look forward to the message he gives from God's word.

THE JEALOUSY OF GOD

We continue in this article series on the character of God. I am spending so much time on this because it is vitally important we know who God is. God wants us to know Him. Hosea 6:6 says, "For I desire mercy, not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings." That means God desires for us to know Him. He created you to know Him. One of the attributes we need to know about God is His jealousy. We see the jealousy of God throughout scripture. It first is stated in Exodus 20:5-6. We tend to think of all jealousy as bad, but there are two types of jealousy to consider. The first type of jealousy is, "I want what you have, and because you have it, not me, I sin." That jealousy is covetousness and is wrong. But there is another type of jealousy that says, "You're mine, I love you, I don't want anyone or anything to take you from me." That type of jealousy is moral. The exclusiveness of marriage is the nature of marriage. Every spouse should have that righteous jealousy to say, "you're mine, and I won't share you" when it comes to the things in marriage. God made us for Himself. People who have been made by God and for God don't know God and live for other things. It's a beautiful thing that God, your creator, longs for your undivided love and devotion. True Christians can take so much comfort in this fact. God is jealous, and anyone who threatens to steal His worship from His bride, the church, will have to deal with him. God's jealousy brings so much comfort to those who have rejected the world.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Sunday, August 8 after Church

There will be a luncheon for our Christian Education Department Sunday August 8 following church, this meeting will be for those who serve in Children's Sunday School, Children's Church, Nursery, Wednesday Night Kids Club and Rooted. We are wanting to get some input on "how are you doing/what do you need/want" from Christian Ed...? We think it is important to work as a unit for God's purposes on how we are to implement God's Word to our youth. PLEASE come and share some delightful food as we glean from one another to grow His Kingdom.

BUTLER FARM SHOW

AUGUST 9-14

If you are interested in helping the Evangelism team share God's Word please come to get more information from Dennis Muir in Room 101 Sunday August 1st at 9:00am.
