Marvel in His Mercy

Another attribute of God for us to marvel in is His mercy. God is merciful. Like all of who God is, mercy isn't something God has, but something that God is. As part of God's nature, mercy has been present since before time, it's always existed in the being of God. To begin understanding the mercy of God we also need an understanding of God's just nature. Next week we will discuss how God is just. For now, God's justice is His judgment on iniquity or giving to man what they deserve because of sin. Mercy then, is God withholding what man deserves in His goodness. The big picture is that no one deserves life, but the mercy of God has postponed the execution. God's mercy hasn't canceled God's judgement; it postponed it for some, and paid it for others. It's the mercy of God that had Him spill His wrath for sin not on us, but Christ at the cross. That withholding of what we deserve is how we understand mercy. It's an incredible attribute that the bible says is new each morning. For the Christian, we live knowing that it's in God's mercy that we went from deserving of death to destined for eternal life. Rejoice that God is merciful.

Kids News for Next Sunday

The kids will be sharing a special song prior to worship on Father's Day. If your child would like to join us on stage and has not received the link to practice at home, please contact Michelle Cousins at mlcousins@outlook.com

New Door Code Update

In efforts to keep our building and our flock safe, the door code has been changed. If you are a ministry leader that needs to get in the church during off office hours, please call and speak to Bob Seaver. The new code is not to be given out without speaking to Bob Seaver first. Thank you, Buildings & Grounds
